Fort Worth Museum of Science and History Celebrates Mascot's 4th Birthday Friday July 10, 2009

FORT WORTH, TEXAS – The 4th of July may be over, but Friday July 10, will bring forth a celebration that is sure to be “Dino-mite”! Join Fort Worth’s favorite dinosaur, Dynamo, along with his mascot friends for his four-year Birthday Celebration. The party will be from 10 a.m. to noon on the Plaza in front of the National Cowgirl Museum and Hall of Fame, 1720 Gendy Street.

“Dynamo is a vital part of the Fort Worth Museum of Science and History family and has brought joy to the hearts of millions,” said Museum President Van A. Romans. “We are inviting everyone to come and celebrate the birthday of our beloved mascot and partake in the wonderful festivities as he turns four years old.”

The Birthday event will feature Radio Disney[®], Dino-cupcakes, games, and prizes. There is no charge for this event because we want everyone to be a part of this dino-sized party for the Museum’s favorite longneck dinosaur.

About the Museum

Dedicated to life-long learning and anchored by its rich collections, the Fort Worth Museum of Science and History engages its diverse community through creative, vibrant programs and exhibits interpreting science and the history of Texas and the Southwest. Since the mid-1980s, the Museum has annually welcomed nearly a million visitors, making it one of the most popular cultural attractions in North Texas.

The Museum is currently in the process of building a new facility in the heart of Fort Worth’s Cultural District. The world-class facility, designed by internationally renowned architects, Legorreta + Legorreta, will open in November 2009 and will feature a collection of new exhibits and programs developed by the Museum’s staff and a team of nationally recognized designers.
