It's Time to Get Curious at the Museum!

Curious George™: Let's Get Curious! Opens October 7

Fort Worth, TX – Curious George™: Let's Get Curious! opens October 7 at the Fort Worth Museum of Science and History. Introduce your child into the world of Curious George™, in an exhibit that will take you on a fun and interactive math, science and engineering-based adventure! The immersive exhibit environment takes place where Curious George and The Man with the Yellow Hat live. Insatiably curious, George lives to find new things to discover, touch, spill and chew. Learn like George - through direct experiences and problem solving as featured throughout the exhibit.

Apartment Building

Operate wheels to move Curious George on pulleys from window to window. Climb the fire escape and climb inside to play with color, light and shadow.

Sidewalk Produce Stand

Play customer or salesperson and explore shape, sorting, weighing and counting with fruit and vegetables.

Construction Site

Design a building, make use of a bounty of building materials and get to work constructing different structures and using machines to move materials.

City Park

Enjoy the urban green space: rest or give a hug to a full-size Curious George and take a picture! Our youngest visitors will enjoy our busy wall activities for babies and toddlers.

Mini Golf

Use pipes, ramps, funnels, turntables, bumpers and force to experiment with physics and engineering as you putt through three holes of mini golf.

Space Rocket

Step up to the rocket Curious George took on his space adventure! Pose for a picture with George in his space suit and e-mail it home.

Farm

Take a vacation to the country and visit the farm. Experience cause and effect and use wind power to move yard art like whirligigs, windmills, windsocks, and wind chimes. Build your own whirligig or windsock and care for the farm animals.

About the Fort Worth Museum of Science and History

The Museum was established in 1941 and is accredited by the American Alliance of Museums. Anchored by its rich collections, the Museum is dedicated to lifelong learning. It engages guests through creative, vibrant programs and exhibits interpreting science and the history of Texas and the Southwest. The Museum is open daily, except Thanksgiving, Christmas Eve and Christmas Day. Visit www.fortworthmuseum.org for more.

Museum Within the Museum

Learn new things about George when you visit the Museum within the Museum. Follow H.A. and Margret Rey's work, the escape from France to safety during World War II that saved the Curious George manuscript, and Curious George throughout the years.

The exhibit is based on the familiar characters in H.A. and Margret Rey's classic stories and the television series produced by Imagine Entertainment, WGBH Boston and Universal Studios Family Productions that launched in 2006 on PBS KIDS® and won two Emmy® Awards for Outstanding Children's Animated Program in both 2008 and 2010. The exhibit, which was designed, developed and built by Minnesota Children's Museum in partnership with Universal Studios Consumer Products Group, encourages children's natural curiosity as they explore early science, math and engineering through hands-on play.

Curious George™: Let's Get Curious! is included in regular exhibit admission. Click here to learn more about the upcoming exhibition.
