

Education Facilitator

The Education Department is seeking a qualified, enthusiastic facilitator for the 2018-2019 fall/spring school year. This program will work with Pre-school and Kindergarten children throughout the school year. The Education Department's inquiry-based discovery approach offers children a unique opportunity for learning in a creative, informal environment, using age-appropriate interpretation and hands-on interaction and opportunities. The interdisciplinary curriculum combines science and history with creative activities. The ideal facilitator is passionate about instilling a respect and appreciation for nature in children. This is a three day a week, 6 hours a day part-time facilitator's position for 30 weeks throughout the school year. This position is within the Museum's Education Department and reports to the Executive Director of Education.
