

CRITTERS TO GO:

Early Childhood Literacy Offerings

Bring the Museum's collections to you for an exciting interactive story hour! Each program includes a story, a craft and items from the Museum's teaching collection that highlight the special characteristics of the animal in the story. Programs run 60 minutes and are suitable for Pre-Kindergarten through 2nd grade classes of 30 students or less.

PRICING: $125 for each hour long class
$750 for 6-8 classes | $1125 for 9-12 classes

Travel Fees may apply outside of Tarrant County.

★ Are You a Butterfly? BUTTERFLIES

Students will learn about all of the amazing changes that happen during the life cycle of a butterfly using this charming book. They will get to observe insect specimens from the museum's teaching collection and create metamorphosis art.

★ Are You a Snail? SNAIL

This fun, colorful book introduces you to the fascinating world of a snail! After reading the book, participants will get to observe live snails and create their own snail craft.

★ Are You My Mother? BIRD

Students will enjoy this classic story of a baby bird who leaves the nest in search of his mother and meets new friends along the way back home. Taxidermy birds from the museum's teaching collection will be brought for observation and participants will create a bird craft.

★ Frederick MOUSE

As Frederick's family gathers food to prepare for winter, he prepares for the long cold days in a different way. Participants will create their own mouse artwork and observe and discuss mouse specimens to learn more about these tiny animals.

★ The Great Fuzz Frenzy PRAIRIE DOG

Prairie dogs take center stage in this silly tale of a mysterious "fuzzy thing" that rolls down their burrow. Students will create their own prairie dog puppet and a taxidermy prairie dog from the museum's teaching collection will be used during the lesson.

★ The Hare and the Tortoise TURTLE AND RABBIT

After reading this timeless tale of how slow and steady wins the race, students will learn about rabbits and turtles with specimens from the museum's teaching collection. Participants will create their own turtle art work.

★ The Kissing Hand RACCOON

Explore the world of our night-time friend raccoon. This heartfelt story of Chester Raccoon tells of new beginnings and the comforting love a mother can share. Students will create their own raccoon tail to wear. A taxidermy raccoon from the collection will be shown.

★ Owl Moon OWL

Soft and silent flies owl through the sky. This story tells of a young child going "owling" in hopes of a glimpse of this beautiful bird against the moonlight night. Students will view a taxidermy owl from the museum's teaching collection and create their own owl artwork.

★ Sassafrass SKUNK

Animals have different ways to protect themselves from predators. In this sweet story about a young skunk named Sassafrass, students will learn about the unique way skunks protect themselves. Participants will observe skunk specimens and create a skunk art project.

★ Stellaluna BAT

Birds and bats both fly through the air, but birds and bats differ in so many ways! Students will enjoy this classic tale of how a young bat tries to behave like a bird but soon realizes that her bat ways are what make her special. Students will create their very own bat artwork. Various bat specimens will be brought.
